1 THE SKILLS FOR SUCCESS FOR CAREERS IN THE SKILLED TRADES AND TECHNOLOGY

The Government of Canada has updated the previous Essential Skills framework to the new Skills for Success model in response to the evolving labour market and changing skill requirements. This model outlines nine fundamental skills Canadians need to thrive in work, education, training, and daily life.

Skills/Compétences Canada aims to highlight the importance of these skills, vital for success in trade and technology careers. Competitors can see how Skills for Success are integrated into contest descriptions, projects, and project documents. Recognizing these skills during the competition helps competitors match tasks with specific skills necessary for success and understand how these skills apply within their trade or technology programs and future careers.

The nine key Skills for Success, validated for workplace success, are:

1. Numeracy
2. Communication
3. Collaboration
4. Adaptability
5. Reading
6. Writing
7. Problem Solving
8. Creativity and Innovation
9. Digital

These Skills for Success are detailed in sections 2.3 and/or 3.2 (to be completed by SCC) of your Contest Description and, if relevant, in your Project and supporting documents.

3.2 Tasks that may be performed during the contest:

1. Hazard Identification:

A fundamental principle of Occupational Health and Safety is recognizing, assessing and controlling hazards in the workplace. The Hazard Identification activity requires the competitor to demonstrate these skills by assessing and suggesting controls for hazards they identify in a simulated workplace. For this activity, the competitors will be asked to:

- Identify the hazards, and for each
- Define the hazard type (physical, biological, chemical, ergonomic, safety, psychological)⁷,
- Suggest the best type of control (elimination, substitution, engineering, administrative, PPE)⁷
- Identify controls already in use
- Indicate the potential hazards the controls are meant to mitigate
- Record all findings on the hazard identification answer sheet⁶

A Test Project has been developed and contains additional preparation information for this activity.

2. Hazard Control:

Observing people at work and identifying hazards controls is one skill used by the Health and Safety professional to assist in reducing / eliminating injury / illness in the workplace. In this section of the competition, competitors will be asked to observe a competition site.

Based on the competition sites selected, competitors will be asked to identify the hazard controls and explain how the controls implemented mitigate this hazard. ^{2,7}

Competitors will observe the competition and collect information which they will use to provide written answers to a series of questions found on the Hazard Control worksheet. ⁶

3. OHS Research / Written Presentation: [OBJ]

For this activity, the competitor will perform the role of an OHS professional researching an OHS issue at a fictional workplace, in order to develop recommendations to the employer.
